Parts of Speech

Learning the parts of speech is the first step in understanding sentence structure. English consists of eight main parts of speech: nouns, pronouns, verbs, adjectives, adverbs, prepositions, conjunctions, and interjections. Each plays a distinct role in sentence construction.

English sentences typically follow a Subject-Verb-Object (SVO) order.

Understanding how to arrange words in this pattern helps learners form clear and grammatically correct sentences. This includes recognizing simple, compound, and complex sentence forms.

Tenses and Verb Forms

Mastering English tenses is essential for expressing time and actions accurately. Beginners should start with the present simple, past simple, and future simple tenses before progressing to continuous and perfect forms. Regular and irregular verb conjugations are also important.
