Understanding the Naturalization Interview Process

The n 652 naturalization interview results reflect the outcome of this comprehensive evaluation.

Interview Structure

The interview typically begins with the officer reviewing the applicant's Form N-400, Application for Naturalization. This stage is followed by the English language test, which assesses the applicant's ability to speak, read, and write basic English.

Civics Test

The civics test evaluates the applicant's knowledge of U.S. history, government structure, and civic responsibilities. Applicants must answer a set number of questions correctly to pass.
